

Disclaimer for the website www.zpi.li of Zehenter & Partner Invest AG

We kindly request you to read the following information before you continue, in order to familiar yourself with the restrictions related to the publication of all data available on this website. People accessing published information on the website of Zehenter & Partner Invest AG (ZPI) acknowledge their agreement with the following terms and conditions of use.

General principles

1. This website does not represent any offer or solicitation for the purchase or disposal of shares, investment fund units or other securities, nor for the provision of investment advice services or any other services named on this website.
2. Certain content and products, to which information on this website is related, are intended solely for qualified investors in compliance with the law.
3. This website and its content are compiled and administered by ZPI. ZPI has taken meticulous care to ensure that the information contained herein is correct, reliable and complete. However, ZPI cannot assume any warranty either expressed or implied that this information is accurate, current and complete or suitable for specific purposes. The content of this website only serves as general information without obligation and does not substitute for individual, in-depth consultation for making decisions in the investment sector.
4. ZPI cannot guarantee that information contained on this website is not changed as a result of technical defects (connection interruptions, third-party encroachments, computer viruses, etc.) or that undisturbed access is possible at all times.
5. The information contained on this website is on no account to be regarded as investment recommendations, legal, tax or other advice. The information and/or the points of view contained on these pages are in no way connected with investment goals, the financial situation or the specific needs of the individual recipients. It is to be recommended that before any investment decision is made specific, professional, personal and appropriate consultation should be obtained. Information and/or points of view contained on the website are solely informational and for personal purposes only and can be altered without prior notification.
6. The value of any investment, securities, derivative products or investment fund shares may fall as well as rise. It is therefore possible that the amount of capital originally invested cannot be maintained and the investor does not retrieve the same amount. Historical performance is no indicator for future results.
7. ZPI does not assume any liability (including negligence without limitation) for losses or damages (direct and specific indirect damages as well as consequential losses) which arise from confidence in the information published on these pages, in connection with the use of or the access to this website or from links with other websites.

8. The access to this website is not permitted for people who, for reasons of domicile, current place of residence, nationality or for other reasons are subject to a jurisdiction that prohibits the publication of or access to this website. In particular people with residence in the United States of America are excluded from the access to this website. If you are subject to such a jurisdiction you are not permitted to further use this website and you have to leave it immediately. If you are not subject to such a jurisdiction, you are permitted to continue using this website once you have read and accepted the conditions of use as defined below. If you are insecure of any sales restrictions or the meaning of any other information published on this website, please consult your financial or professional advisor.

Access restrictions for the United States of America

The products and services of ZPI, as described on the website, are not intended for "US-citizens" (as defined under the US Securities Act of 1933, amended). The fund units or stocks described on the website have not been and will not be registered pursuant to the Securities Act or any other applicable United States securities law (including the applicable laws of individual states of the USA). The above mentioned products may not be offered or sold, directly or indirectly, neither in the United States - including its territories as well as all territories which are subject to its sovereign jurisdiction - nor to nationals thereof. By proceeding you confirm that you are not an US citizen.

Disclaimer

1. Content of the online offer
ZPI assumes no liability that the information provided on this website is current, correct and complete nor for the quality thereof. Liability claims against ZPI regarding damages of pecuniary or non-pecuniary nature caused through the use or non-use of the presented information or rather through the use of incorrect and/or incomplete information are in general excluded unless either deliberateness or gross negligence on the part of the author can be proven. All offers are subject to confirmation and non-committal. ZPI explicitly reserves the right to change, supplement or delete parts of the pages or the entire offer without separate announcement or to cease publication temporarily or permanently.
2. References and links
With regard to direct or indirect references to external websites (hyperlinks) which are outside the area of responsibility of ZPI, liability would only become effective in the event that ZPI was aware of the content and it would have been technically feasible and reasonable for them to prevent the use thereof in the case of the said content being illegal. Herewith ZPI explicitly declares that at the time the link was set no illegal content on the pages were recognizable. ZPI has no influence on the current or future design, the content or the copyright of the linked pages and expressly distances itself from any and all content of linked pages which has been modified after linking. This declaration applies to all links and references set within the context of ZPI's own website offers as well as all inputs entered by third parties in any other form of databases, which provide external write access to the available content. For illegal, faulty or incomplete content, and in particular for damages arising from the use or non-use of such offered information, only the owner or operator of the site to which the link relates may be held liable and not the party who merely made the link to the publication in question.

3. Copyright

All information provided on this website, content and images are protected by copyright and belong to the property of ZPI. The rights of third parties shall remain reserved. This information may not be interpreted as permission from ZPI or the right to use any image, registered trademark, service mark or logo. Downloading or copying of any software or content of the website does not entitle you to any right over the downloaded or copied material. ZPI retains all rights, including copyright in and ownership of all information presented on the website and will enforce these rights to the full extent of the applicable statutory regulations. The duplication or usage in other electronic or printed publications without explicit permission of ZPI is not allowed.

4. Data protection

As far as the website offers the possibility for entering personal or business data (e-mail addresses, names, postal addresses etc.), the submission and disclosure of these data by the user expressly takes place on a voluntary basis. Insofar as the website offers the possibility to send e-mails to ZPI, these are transmitted via the internet, a publicly accessible network, over which ZPI has no control. For this reason, the e-mails can be intercepted, altered or lost. In this respect ZPI cannot be held liable. The use of contact data such as postal addresses, telephone or fax numbers as well as e-mail addresses provided within the framework of the imprint or comparable publications through a third party for sending information not expressly requested is not permitted. ZPI reserves the right to take legal measures against those senders of so-called spam mails that violate this regulation.

5. Extended privacy policy for the usage of social network plugins

Plugins/banners for social networks can appear on this website. The plugins/buttons are recognisable by a logo or like/follow buttons or retweet functions. Whenever you visit our pages a direct link between your browser and the social network server of Facebook, Xing, etc. can be established. In this way the providers are notified that you have visited the corresponding pages on our website with your IP address. By interacting with the like/follow button or the retweet function you link the content of these pages to your profile while you are logged in. In this way Facebook, Xing, etc. can assign the visit to our website to your user account and store this information. We point out that ZPI, as website provider, has no knowledge about the actual content of the transmitted data nor about its use. If you do not wish that providers of social networks are able to assign a visit to our pages to your user account, please log out of your social network user account before visiting our website. Further information about the data processing, details about the data management as well as your rights and settings options to protect your private sphere can be obtained from the private policy notices of the respective social networks:
